FROM THE DESK OF R.A. MARTINEZ

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

We are soaring into 2027. I want to bring you up to see what is happening in our MAPS Global family across the Earth.

An eagle can soar high enough to see the whole landscape, yet its vision is sharp enough to identify what matters on the ground. This “eagle’s eye view” gives us the ability to see farther, wider, and more clearly without losing sight of the target.

In 2021, we published an audacious vision with measurable goals:

“We believe that in the grace of God we have an assignment to strengthen, build, and plant seven Missions Bases over the next seven years across the 10/40 Window. These will be Antioch Sending Centers in their regions with many hurches, houses of prayer and locations connected to each one.”

We named the locations and defined the blueprint: each base and church would be an “Antioch Sending Center,” building communities that give themselves to prayer, training and sending. Honestly, it was a wild, faith-filled vision to say out loud - but we knew God was leading the way.

Five years later: five of the seven bases are established, hundreds of men and women have been trained and deployed, and thousands across the 10/40 Window are engaging with our bases. Many are also encountering Jesus through what’s taking place at our Global Headquarters in Richmond, Virginia.

Our East Africa Missions Base is now online, our North Africa team is preparing to launch, and we have a team from our MAPS Global School in the Himalaya for 90 days praying, preaching and singing. In addition to all that is happening in the nations, pastors and churches are increasingly joining the mission by sending missionaries to the unreached through MAPS Global. With your partnership, we are beginning to see the vision realized — every nation will see and sing of the worth of Jesus and the Great Commission will be finished in our generation!

This Annual Report is meant to give you that view across the landscape of all of MAPS Global, and zoom into each location so you can see what is happening on the ground. From city to city across these regions, the Holy Spirit is testifying to the majesty of Jesus with power. Come read the stories, hear the testimonies, see the beauty and add your amen!

We are deeply grateful for your continued prayers, support, and advocacy. Your partnership gives us strength and courage to press forward in the assignment God has entrusted to us. Thank you for standing with us in this vital work. Together, we are participating in a story far greater than ourselves: Jesus’ name and fame being proclaimed to the ends of the earth.

Come Soar with Us!

About

WHO

OUR VISION

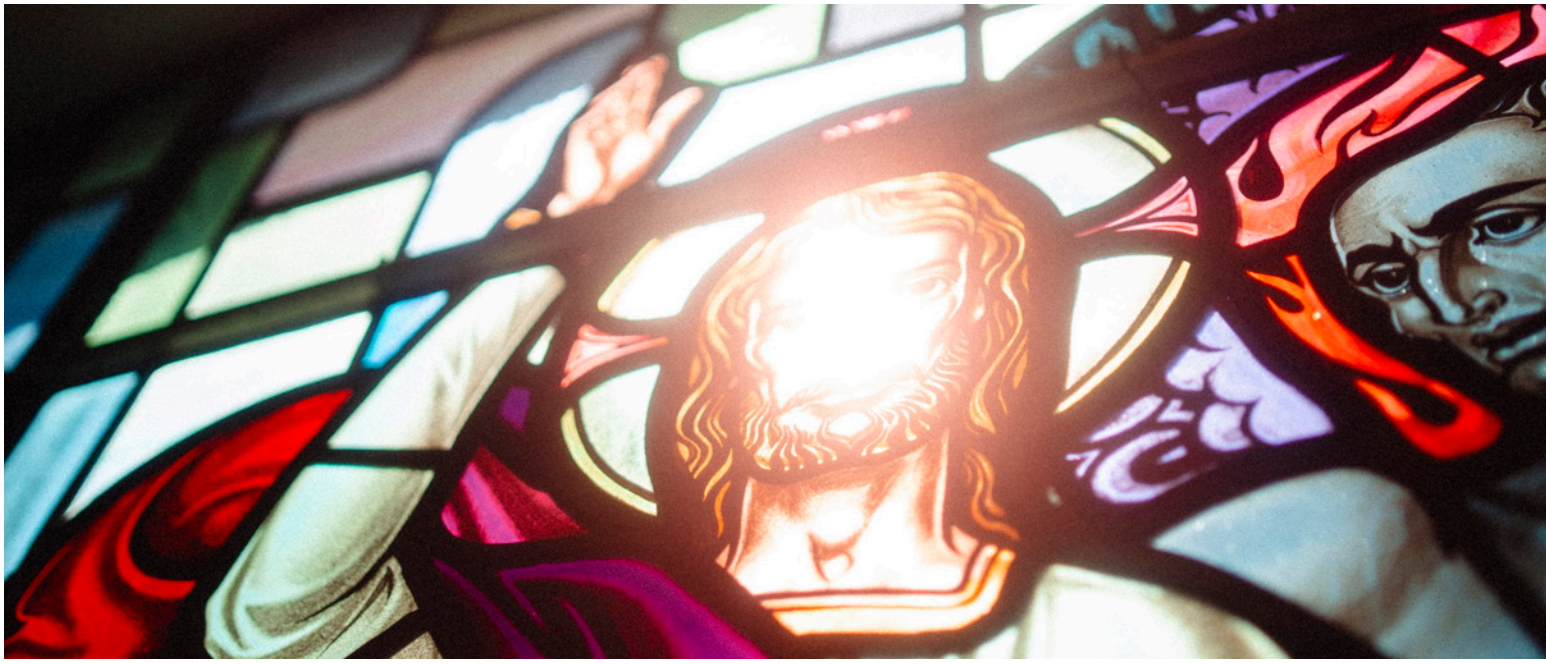

MAPS Global is a missional family that exists to pray, preach and sing in neighborhoods and nations until every nation sees and sings of the worth of Jesus Christ and the Great Commission is finished in our generation.

OUR MISSION

Our missional strategy is to identify strategic cities within the 10/40 Window and build regional bases centered around corporate worship and prayer, training and sending. We deploy mid- and long-term workers that will serve to strengthen these expressions.

Because worship and prayer is central in God's strategy to finish the task of global missions, our heart is to embrace the marriage of day and night prayer with frontier missions and to give clear expression to it from our Global Headquarters to strategic cities across the 10/40 Window.

WHY
WE EXIST

Jesus is Worthy 01

The Gospel is Powerful 02

The Time is Urgent 03

01 / JESUS IS WORTHY

The worth of Jesus is the preeminent motivation for all we do here at MAPS Global. It is the fuel and the finish line of all worship, prayer and missions. All of Heaven revolves around His worth and His beauty and all of creation was made to resound and reflect His glory. Those who see Him the most clearly are those that never stop singing of how much He is worth. It is not statistics and needs alone that will compel the Church to engage with the Great Commission. It must be a vision of the supreme worth and majestic beauty of Jesus Christ, the Lord of the Harvest.

02 / THE GOSPEL IS POWERFUL

There is no news more powerful than the Gospel of the Kingdom. It is the only news that has the supernatural power to shift an eternal destiny. It is the only news that can transfer people out of the dominion of darkness and into the Kingdom of light! This news is the great hope for all the nations. The greatest injustice in the Earth is that 3.4 billion people do not have access to the life-saving message of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

03 / THE TIME IS URGENT

The Church has always lived in a perpetual state of urgency since her inception in Acts 2. Thousands across the Earth will take their last breath today without ever having had a chance to hear the Gospel. In light of the worth of Jesus and the power of the Gospel, we aim to live with urgency. The urgency we live with is not a frenzied busyness of activity but a passion to focus our time, our energy and our lives toward that which will matter for eternity. We urgently do not want to waste our lives on things that do not matter in light of eternity.

PROGRAM FOCUSES

PRAY + WORSHIP

Our central ministry together is to host the Presence of God, to minister to Him day and night and to create a place where people from all over the world can meet with the Living God.

TRAIN + DEVELOP

We train and develop pioneering leaders in an environment of prayer, worship, and frontier missions. This is a greenhouse to nurture emerging leaders and a covering for many different churches, bases, leaders and ministries.

There are five expressions we give ourselves to across the MAPS Global family. These five program focuses are essential to building Antioch Sending Centers here in Richmond and across the global cities of the 10/40 Window. We define these for everyone who comes into the organization, so that each individual has the dignity of making the decision to say “yes” to giving their strength to move in the same direction with the global family.

SEND + PLANT

We send missionaries and plant bases of prayer, worship and training in strategic cities across the 10/40 Window.

MOBILIZE + PREACH

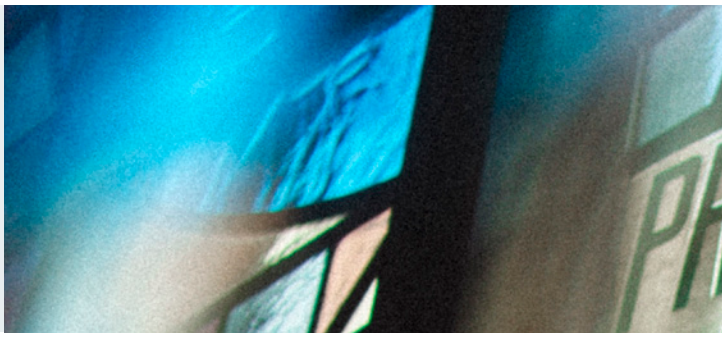

We mobilize this generation to consider giving their lives to pray, preach and sing of the worth of Jesus and to understand what part they play in the Great Commission.

MINISTER TO PEOPLE

We are an Isaiah 61 people who minister through the gifts and power of the Spirit to the least, the last and the lost — the broken-hearted, those tormented by devils, and those who have never heard of the hope of the Gospel.

Headquarters

MAPS Global Headquarters is located in Richmond, Virginia. From our Headquarters, we plant and build strategic bases for prayer, training and spiritual family in global cities across the 10/40 Window. Our Headquarters acts as the prototype and sending center for all of our bases on the frontier and serves them with the resources of our five departments: Finance, Operations, Partnership, Human Resources and Care.

LUKE'S TESTIMONY

HISTORY TURNS TO HEALING

> On a warm day in August of 2025, 15-year-old Luke walked the streets of Richmond, Virginia. Not fully knowing what he was getting into, this African-American teenager followed a pastor who was leading a group on a walking tour through parts of Richmond.

They wove through cobblestone streets as cars bustled past and the city's scents wafted through the air. Little did he know, he was about to walk into a moment of transformation.

He craned his neck to listen to the pastor as she described the division of the nation and the deep hurt that was born out of the slave trade in America. He identified with that pain but wondered if anything good could come out of it. As they walked, the pastor began to share what the Lord was doing with the ashes of the past. From the same cobblestone streets of Richmond where chains of slavery had held Luke's ancestors captive, the Lord was raising up a Black Missions Movement. From pain, purpose was blooming and spreading not only across America, but across the world. She shared how black men and women were finding their purpose, identity and calling. Luke's heart began to stir.

After the tour, the group went back to MAPS Global's Annual Gathering. Luke was excited to be able to sit in the room and listen to the African-American Missions Panel. African-American believers who had hearts burning with a love for the Lord shared their part in the story of redemption the Lord was writing. These were exactly the type of people the pastor was talking about moments ago. Luke's heart was gripped as he listened. The memories of the past and the beauty of what the Lord was doing in the present had led him to the One who spoke purpose over him: Jesus. He decided it was time. He was fully surrendering to God's purposes for His life. He spoke to his group leaders, and they gathered around him and prayed with him as he took this bold step of obedience and faith.

Luke is being discipled and continuing to grow as he sets his sights on the Lord's plans for His life. He desires to go into full-time missionary work in the future and add his name to the Black Missions Movement.

JOHN'S TESTIMONY

For many years, I struggled with severe depression and anxiety. I tried to control every single aspect of my life, which only left me feeling completely empty, exhausted, and isolated. A close friend invited me to MAPS Global. I realized that I couldn't carry my burdens alone and that I needed to walk the path that Jesus teaches us. I repented, dropped my walls, and completely surrendered my life to Him.

EXPANDING ON THE FRONTIER

MISSIONS BASE SNAPSHOTS

God is raising up Antioch Sending Centers (Acts 13) in strategic locations across the Earth for the fulfillment of Matthew 24:14, “And this Gospel of the Kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the whole world as a testimony to all [ethnē], and then the end will come.”

Our Missions Bases are staffed by missionaries and local believers who pray, preach and sing among the unreached. As new believers come into the Kingdom, we train them to sing of the worth of Jesus, serve the local Church and share the Gospel with their people.

NOA'S TESTIMONY

During an indigenous-led outreach, a woman came to hear the gospel, but her ankle was injured and she was in pain as she walked in. One of our former students saw her and prayed for the pain in her body to leave. Through a moment of faithful prayer, she was healed. This same student later shared the Gospel with another woman, Noa. Noa would end up deciding to follow Christ. Now, this new believer is coming to church, being discipled and was recently baptized! A simple act of obedience changed this woman's life, pulling her out of darkness and into the light.

EMIR'S TESTIMONY

THE DISCOVERY OF A LIFETIME

> Emir entered a small, carpeted basement room crowded with people who were waiting expectantly to hear from the Bible.

19-year-old Emir was invited by his Christian friend, Yusuf, and it was his first time coming to church. He had read the New Testament and had been thinking about this man, Jesus, for a while.

Growing up Muslim, he knew Jesus was a holy prophet, but did not know Him as Lord. He had been studying the life of Jesus and the contents of the Gospels, trying to gain clarity on the truth of who this man really was. Like a scientist trying to bring a microscope into focus, he still saw a blurry image. He had questions. Would this day bring answers?

"We believe in one God... and in one Lord Jesus Christ, the only-begotten Son of God, begotten of the Father before all worlds; God of God, Light of Light, Very God of Very God," read the pastor, in Emir's own language. He was teaching from the ancient Nicene Creed. "Begotten, not made, being of one substance with the Father, by whom all things were made; who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven..."

The local pastor in Eurasia was dissecting the creed statement by statement. Emir was struck by the clarity of the teaching; the words he spoke were not just information, they were revelation. At the end of the service, the pastor asked if anyone would like to make a statement of faith and give their life to Jesus. The image was clear. There was no longer any doubt. Emir stood up, put his hand in the air, and confidently stated, "Yes, I would!"

"Do you know what this means?" asked the pastor. "Do you know what you are getting into?"

"After hearing this message today, I just know that He is God, and I want to live for Him," said Emir. In that moment, he prayed with the pastor and those in the room, made his statement of faith, and became a follower of Jesus.

He moved from confusion to confidence, from blurriness to clarity. The haze had dissipated, and now Emir could finally see clearly.

MIDDLE EAST

The Middle East Missions Base is a center for prayer, worship, training, and community in a capital city in the heart of the Middle East. It is a multi-cultural community of both international and indigenous people centered around worship and prayer arising in response to the worth and beauty of Jesus.

Disciples developed

Our base hosts unbroken prayer and worship, strengthens, empowers and equips the local church, and reaches the lost with the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Indigenous training provides key development for emerging leaders in the church.

Outreach in our global city and to the surrounding regions is planting seeds in the hearts of the unreached that we believe will eventually grow into fruitful fields. This year, we were able to launch a platform that gives us access to an unreached and unengaged portion of the country. This region has been historically hard ground, and we are eager to watch as the Lord transforms this sun-scorched desert into a well-watered garden of Kingdom fruit.

We have also expanded the doors of our base to include a local church expression. Historically, those leaving Islam (Muslim Background Believers, “MBBs”) to follow Jesus have not been welcomed into the local churches due to security risks and cultural stigmas. The Lord pressed us to open our doors to our brothers and sisters who are without a home, and to be a true family of God for them. What an honor it is to welcome them into our lives as we all grow in following the Lamb together!

JAWAD'S TESTIMONY

A SHEEP BECOMES A SHEPHERD

> Not every step toward faith begins in a church: sometimes it begins with a question typed into a search bar.

Jawad, a native Arab in the Middle East, began searching for answers about Christianity online, unsure of what he would find. There are very few Christians in his nation, and questions like his couldn't be raised with just anyone, so the internet was the only place he felt like he could ask them safely. His boldness started with an online conversation and eventually led him to in-person meetings with Abdul, a local Arab believer eager to continue the conversation, patiently, week after week.

Abdul wasn't a stranger to this journey. Years ago, he was the very first person the team in the Middle East led to faith. He was discipled, completed the local training school, and began working with the team full-time. Now Abdul is the one who is leading and discipling — the first sheep brought into the flock is now the one going out to bring in the next.

Jawad and Abdul met one-on-one for months, working through the basic foundations of what it means to follow Jesus. But the moment that actually changed him wasn't an argument or apologetics. It was reading the Sermon on the Mount for the first time and recognizing, in his own words, "this has to be God." This God that he was reading about was the one he wanted to follow. Jawad had never set foot inside a church before, but he finally worked up the courage to attend a gathering at the Middle East Missions Base. Then came the moment that stopped him cold: the passage the group was working through, verse by verse, was the Sermon on the Mount. They were studying the very words he had been wrestling with on his own. And not only were they studying it, they were living it. The love and joy that Jawad felt when he walked into the room reinforced his belief that Jesus was the one he wanted to follow.

Not long after, Jawad chose to be baptized.

Jawad and Abdul walked a similar path: their stories, their wrestles, and their questions connected them in a unique way. This allowed Abdul to guide Jawad on his journey, like a shepherd guiding a sheep through a narrow ravine to a green pasture. One day, Jawad may very well be helping to guide the next lost sheep on the path to life.

Disciples are making disciples in the Middle East, as God is transforming local believers from sheep into shepherds.

LINA'S TESTIMONY

We visited a home where a woman, Lina, had been unable to walk or move her right foot, with no mobility in her ankle and toes for four years. We asked if we could lay hands on her and pray for her.
As one of the team laid her hand on Lina's foot and prayed, she felt her hand grow hot and immediately believed that Jesus wanted to make the woman well — not just her foot, but her entire soul and body.

As they prayed, Lina's eyes widened and she said that her pain had gone from 10/10 to 2/10. Astonished, Lina pointed to our teammate and said, "It's because of you." The team member responded, "No, it's because I have faith in Jesus — He is the Healer."

We asked if the woman could try walking on her foot. She said there was still a little pain left, so we prayed again, asking that the pain would go from 2 to 0. It was a quick prayer, nothing fancy. As our teammade prayed, the woman said, "It's zero!" She began to jump up and down, able to move and even dance without pain.

MAYA'S TESTIMONY

RESTORED AND SOARING

> Like a bird afraid to fly, the gift of worship that once flourished in Maya felt dormant and grounded in the Levant.

From a young age she had a desire to lead worship vocationally, and when that fell through it left her disappointed and discouraged. Maya's husband was a worship leader at their local church in the Levant. As they built their life together there, she hoped that it would lead to her being restored and rejuvenated to lead again. Instead, she faced hardships and struggled to find her place in the flock - which left her lacking the courage to step back into the place of leading worship.

She had a heart for prayer, worship, and the presence of God - but needed a family that would equip her and awaken this gift of worship that now lay dormant.

That's when she found the Levant Missions Base, which housed a prayer room and a training program focused on theological development and equipping people to serve in vocational ministry.

When Maya joined the school, what she found wasn't just teaching, but a singing seminary: a family of people eating together, worshiping together and training together. Other students and staff showed up together, week after week, and noticed her. Maya felt seen, valued and empowered in her assignment to lead.

She began to come alive and stretch her wings again. The leaders of the training school described seeing the gifts and desires that God had set inside of her as being "brought back to life." She can now be found in the Levant leading worship sets, joining teams, singing again in front of people - what went quiet all those years ago has now come alive.

Restoration for Maya didn't come from trying harder alone. It came from finding a family that would take her under their wings. That is the power of a training school that is part of a spiritual family; it is a flock of people who stay close enough and long enough to notice what is dormant in someone and call it back to life. With the help of a community that trains and sends, Maya is catching the wind again and now she is soaring.

ARAB GULF

The Arab Gulf Missions Base is a multi-cultural community located in a strategic city of the Middle East that exists to unveil the unmatched beauty and worth of Christ in the heart of the Muslim world.

From the place of day and night prayer, we make disciples and catalyze the multiplication of house churches among the unreached. We will do this until the Arab Gulf sees and sings of the worth of Jesus.

BRAD'S TESTIMONY

SOARING ABOVE THE STORM

> The news hit the room like the crash of a thunderstorm. With no warning and no time to prepare, war had broken out across the Arab Gulf.

Hundreds had gathered together from across the Earth for a conference of Christian leaders in the region. The original plan had been to close the conference the next day with an in-person prayer gathering. That plan was no longer possible. Travel was uncertain, gathering in numbers suddenly carried real risk, and the closing service that had been on the schedule for months had to be canceled.

Some of the leaders asked a simple question: why don't we pray together anyway, just online? Brad, the leader of the MAPS Global Arab Gulf Missions Base, worked to coordinate with other ministry leaders to host an online prayer call. Brad would end up leading the time of prayer as God gathered people in a way that no one had expected.

This prayer meeting in the midst of war and uncertainty didn't stop the storm - it created an updraft, a kind of quickly rising current of air that allows birds to save energy and travel farther than they could on their own strength. In the same way, the updraft of God's presence poured out through prayer and intercession was about to do the same for everyone on that call.

The call started, and people joined. And people kept joining — not just the ones who'd been at the conference, but others logging in from wherever they were, many in the middle of the same crisis. Not just hundreds, but thousands joined: over 1,000 different devices, totaling over 3,000 people praying together during this call.

The updraft of God's presence began to lift up people who chose to bring a sudden, frightening reality to God instead of carrying it alone. They prayed for neighbors and strangers alike. They prayed for leaders making decisions in real time. As prayer brought them into a new perspective, many of those who prayed together were strengthened by the same conviction: God is sovereign and above any storm. Not just the storms that we can plan for.

The power of the presence of God through prayer and worship was an updraft that brought thousands of people soaring above the storm, and is supernaturally sustaining them through the journey ahead.

AZIZ’S STORY

“Remember when I said no?” Aziz, a local believer in East Africa, had once declined full-time ministry. Then, during a 50 Hours prayer gathering, the prayers in the room changed from asking God to raise up missionaries to “Here I am, send me.” Aziz now senses God sending him to out to reach Arabs in neighboring nations, which is part of a broader movement of indigenous believers stepping into missions across the 10/40 Window.

NADIR + FADIA'S TESTIMONY

A FAMILY FLYING TOGETHER

> It started with a man named Mohammad. In April of 2024, he was trapped by the kind of persecution that broke his bones and left fear and torment lingering long after his body healed.

He had found the Lord, but he had not yet found a flock. When he stumbled into a prayer gathering in East Africa, he felt surrounded for the first time by people who carried the same freedom he'd been chasing. As the community prayed over him, the fear lifted, the pain left, and Mohammad testified boldly of the freedom he experienced. A caged bird had learned to fly.

The community that welcomed him in was led by Nadir and Fadia, who had spent years training young adults for ministry across the Middle East — fruitful work, but lonely, carried largely on their own. Through mission trips into other regions, they kept encountering extended prayer and worship gatherings, later realizing these were other MAPS Global Missions Bases. Something clicked. They had found what a decade of solitary labor hadn't given them: a family flying in formation. When a MAPS team came to support their gathering, Mohammad was healed, and Nadir and Fadia found camaraderie in a shared vision built on love and trust.

Wanting to grow that relationship, they trained at the MAPS Global School alongside others doing the same work in other nations, and left strengthened: "We went from running a lonely race to belonging to a family. From running fast to learning how to run deep. From feeling overwhelmed by the vision to being equipped."

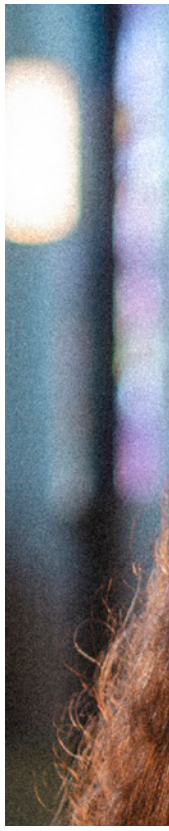

They came home with a plan to fold their life's work into what would become the East Africa Missions Base — but no space to house it. Since 2022, they'd dreamed of one building for prayer, discipleship, and housing under one roof. For four years the dream stalled, doors closed, and the team grew discouraged. As the MAPS family surrounded them, they dared to dream again — and through prayer, fasting, and searching, a building opened up that matched their 2022 whiteboard sketch nearly line for line, confirming God's commitment to build His house in East Africa.

Nadir and Fadia's solo flight is officially over. This summer, they completed the process of being adopted into the MAPS family as the East Africa Missions Base. Years of flying against the current turned into an updraft that carried them upward. The team is now preparing to send ten leaders to train at the Middle East Missions Base, so they can carry what they learn back across the Arab world. Trained, equipped, and no longer alone, the East Africa team is spreading its wings and soaring.

50 HOURS INITIATIVE

Imagine you've just taken your seat in a hall to hear a symphony orchestra.

A hush falls over the room as the conductor lifts the baton, and with one movement, the symphony jumps to life. The air fills with the hum of strings, the crash of cymbals, and the piercing sound of woodwinds. The pianist's fingers dance across the keys with precision and speed, and the entire family of brass instruments works together in harmony. As sound fills the hall and surrounds you in a beautiful blanket of song, individual notes and melodies join together into a powerful and emotional piece of music. Each instrument by itself is powerful and unique, but together they create something more beautiful and powerful than they ever could on their own.

There is a symphony of worship to Window. This region is where more in spiritual silence.

e than three billion people live

This is why in April 2026 we sent seven teams and over 100 people to seven locations in the 10/40 Window to host 50 Hours of non-stop prayer and worship. Over 1,000 people in these regions joined and participated, and hundreds more engaged online from across the Earth. As songs and melodies were lifted up, God poured out His Spirit powerfully in every location. We saw healings, salvation, and miracles break out in the midst of conflict and global political tensions. It all points to the reality that every tribe, nation, and language will join this symphony of worship to the King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

As the sounds and melodies arise to Jesus across the nations, this song is taking regions from darkness to light, and from spiritually silent to awake and alive with a crescendo of harvest in this generation.

GERALD'S TESTIMONY

A SONG ACROSS THE EARTH

> "This is what it is all unto," thought Gerald to himself. The screen lit up in front of him with faces from multiple continents. "This is how we know we are doing our jobs. This is something I have read and sung and prayed to the Lord for...for years."

Gerald, a pastor in the Midwest, was on a Zoom call with believers in seven different nations across the Earth. For the first time, these seven nations were joining in worship and prayer together with one voice and one accord...for 50 hours.

As Gerald joined the call, and listened to testimonies from each location, a realization dawned on him.

This was it. This was the prophecy of Malachi 1:11 unfolding before his eyes. In that passage of scripture, the Lord said, "My name will be great among the nations, from where the sun rises to where it sets. In every place, incense and pure offerings will be brought to me..."

"That one moment ignited my heart in a powerful way," said Gerald. "There were representatives on the call from Richmond, where the sun was going down, all the way to the Himalaya, where the sun was rising."

Gerald has engaged his church through prayer calls for the Great Commission, sending missionaries through MAPS to the 10/40 Window and funding Gospel initiatives together.

"I have never been more convinced that the Lord is desiring our agreement, and He is intent on using our agreement as a vehicle to accomplish His intent and purpose in the Earth," said Gerald.

Financials

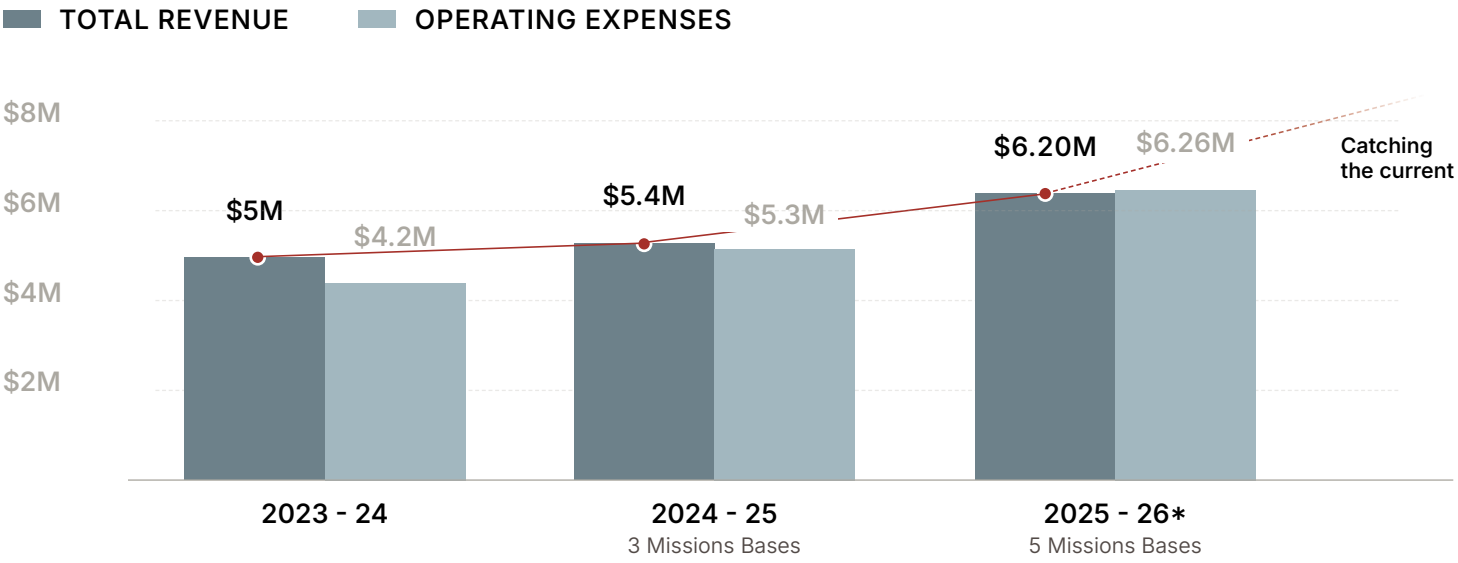

MAPS Global continues to experience significant year-over-year growth with local expansion, international reach and increased staffing. Revenue growth is undergirded by institutional fundraising, deputized fundraisers and program revenue that creates value for the organization.

The data in this section is audited annually by CapinCrouse LLP; 2025–26 figures are preliminary. To view externally audited financials by CapinCrouse LLP, please visit our website at mapsglobal.org/financials.

THE CLIMB

Since 2023–24, revenue has grown 24% — from $5.0M to $6.2M — and we have grown to five Missions Bases. We adopted an ambitious operating budget to fuel each location with the resources they need to expand and grow. Our operating budget has been at or near our operating revenue year over year for the last three years. As we gain the altitude required for all seven bases, we must begin to create distance between our donation revenue and our expenses, building a strong capital reserve together. The success of our programs are proven, and now we must catch the current and soar to new heights.

SEVEN BASES, SOARING TOGETHER

The eagle's eye view gives us the ability to see farther, wider and more clearly without losing sight of the target. Five Missions Bases are established and two are on the horizon — and every one of them is carried by the wind.

STEWARDSHIP STATEMENT

Integrity and transparency are core to us. Every year we undergo an independent audit by CapinCrouse and publish the results at mapsglobal.org/financials, alongside our prior reports and IRS 501(c)(3) letter. Our board reviews the audit, approves our budget, and ensures it stays responsible and mission-aligned. We track every expense across ministry programs, running the mission, and raising funds to maximize every gift toward Kingdom work. These 2025–26 figures are our year-end close ahead of audit; we'll post audited statements once issued.

ABOUT THE BUILDING

Our Richmond headquarters — home to our prayer room and training school — is the flagship prototype for every missions base. This year's appraisal came in well above book value. Carried at cost less depreciation, it has depreciated $397K over two years while we've reinvested only $198K — the gap behind our financial position, which is a capital problem, not an operating one. The building already appraises above what we owe; we're simply waiting on provision to put it fully to work.
